

Route 113 Corridor

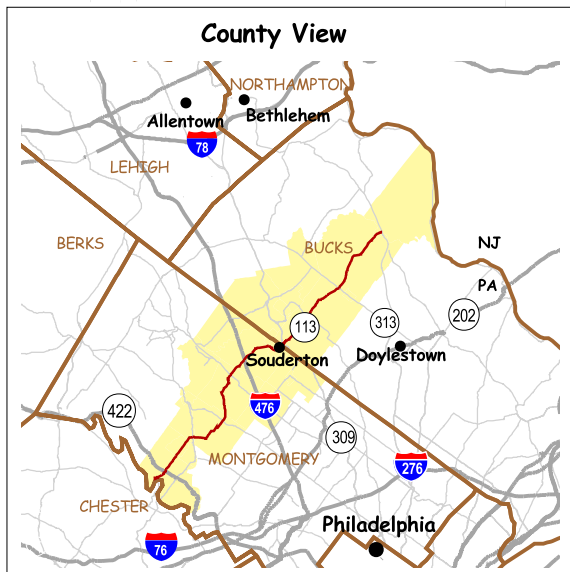

Bucks & Montgomery Counties, PA

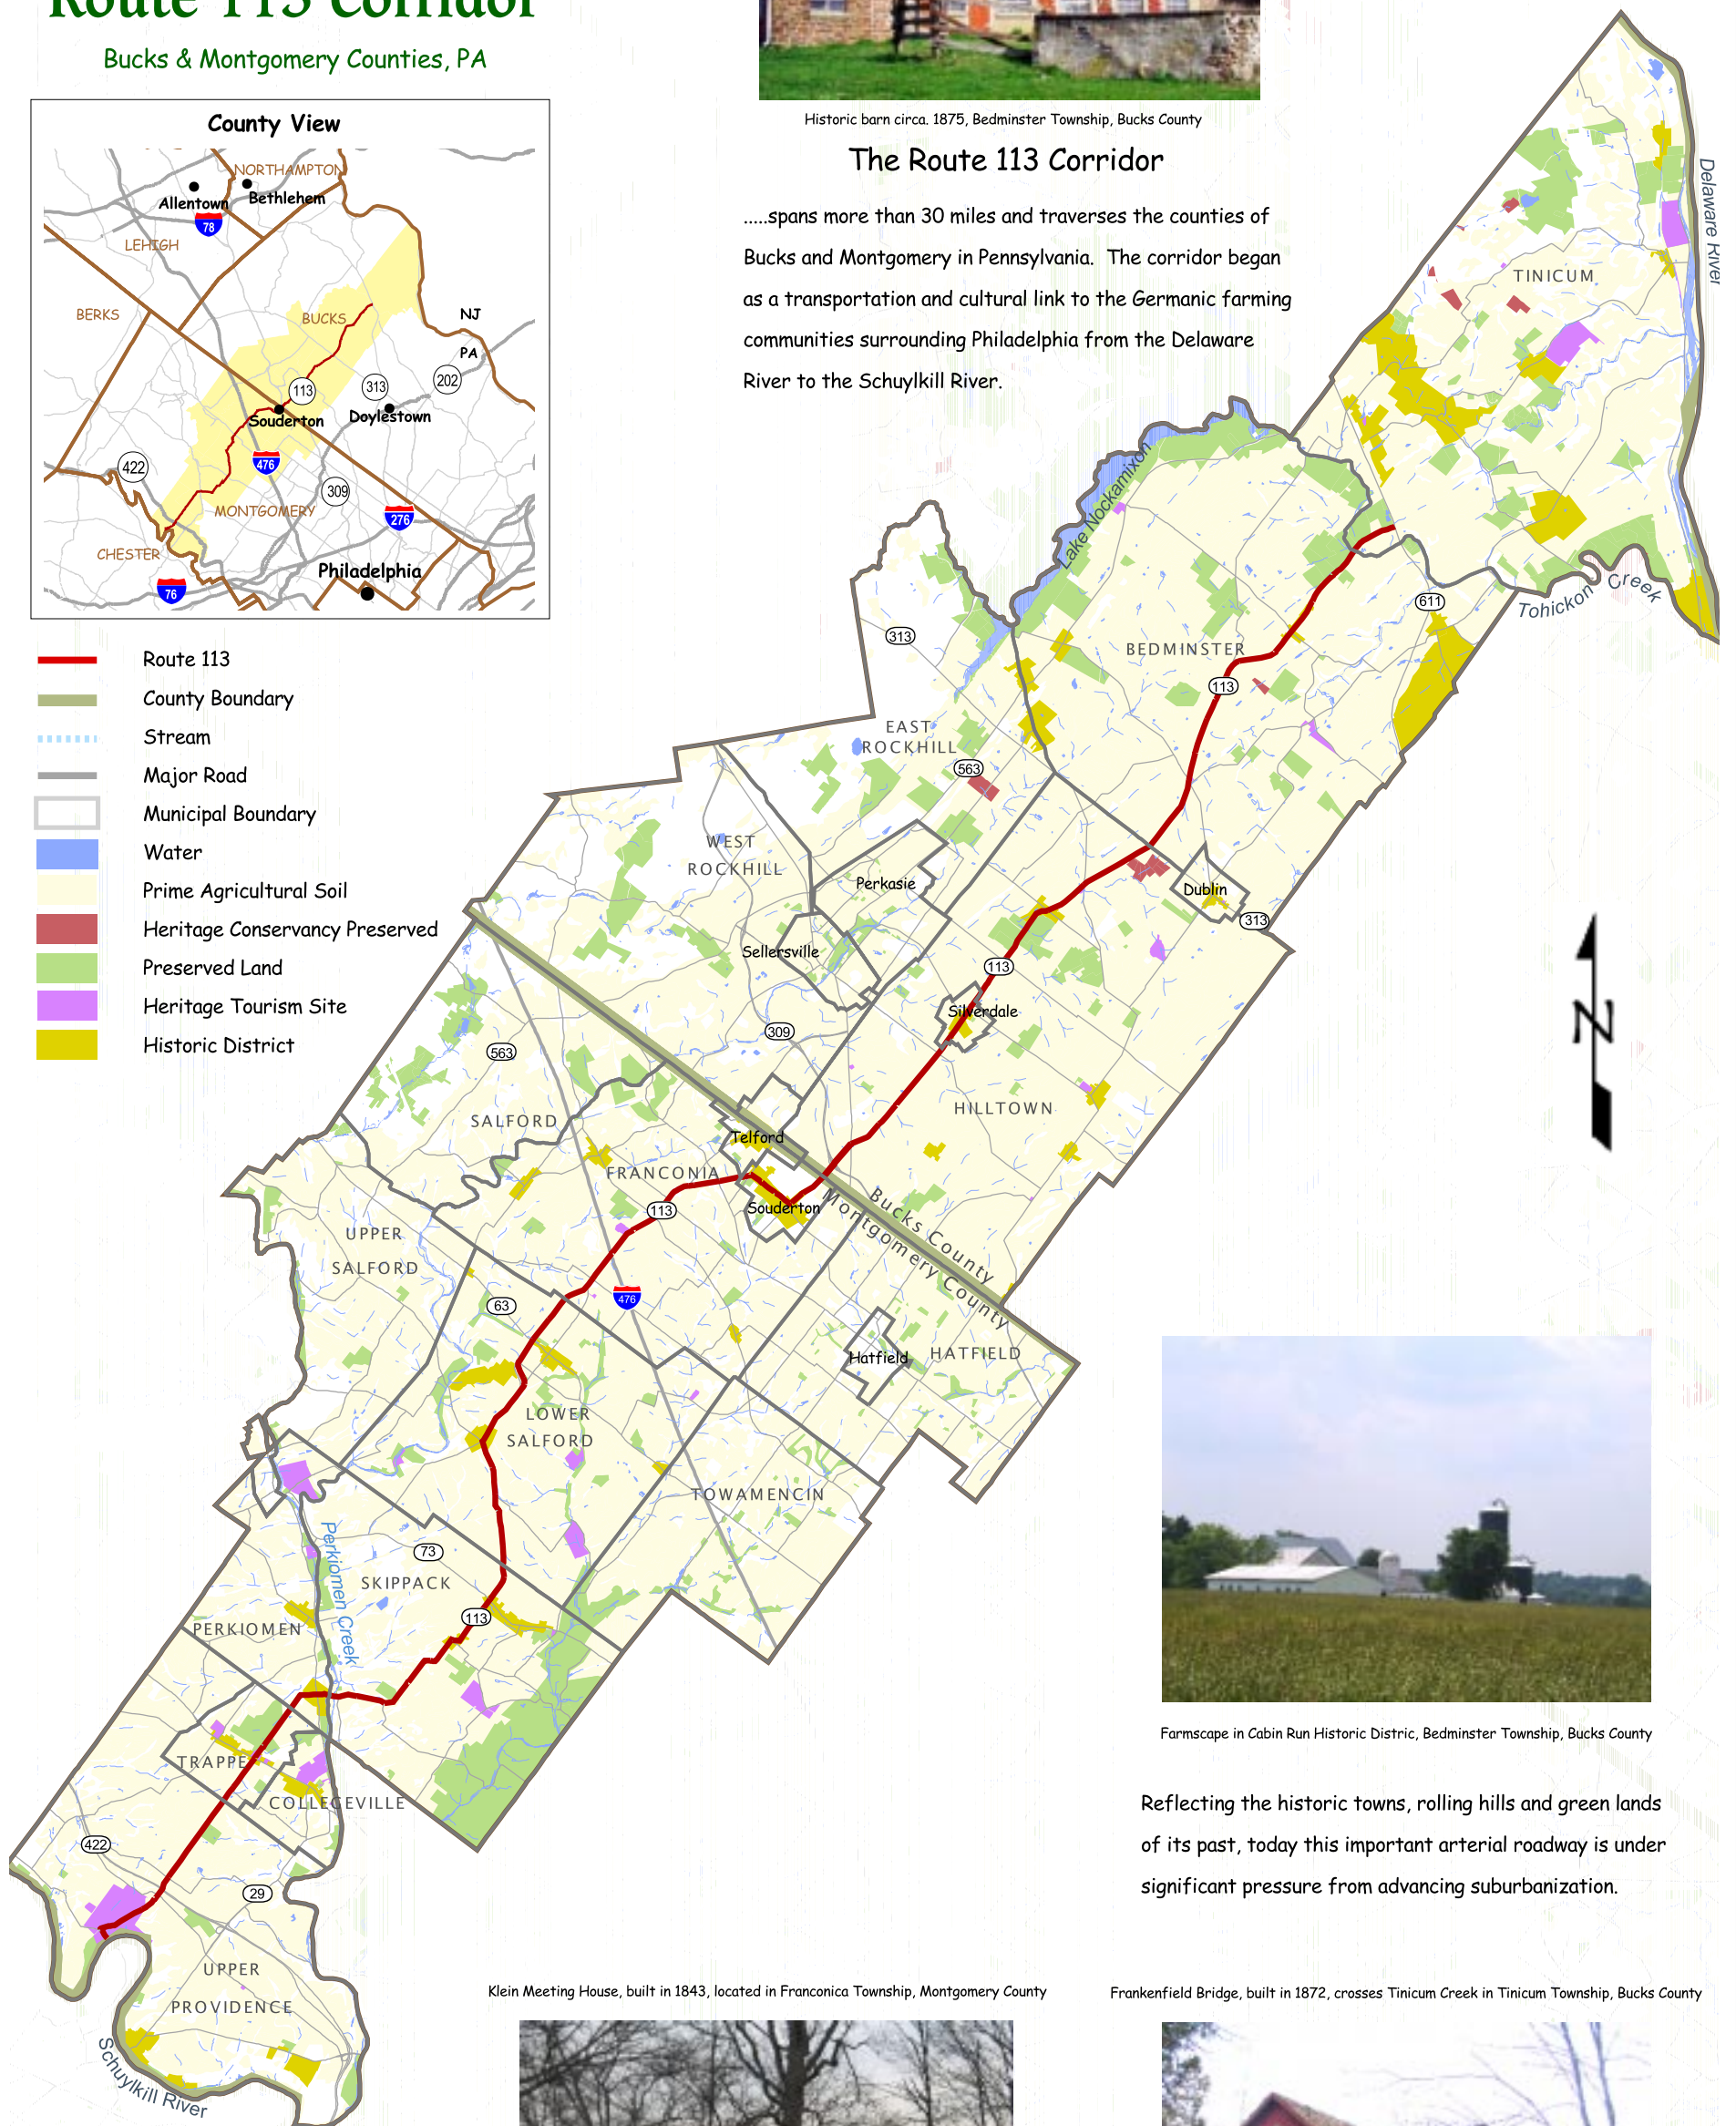

Historic barn circa 1875, Bedminster Township, Bucks County

The Route 113 Corridor

.....spans more than 30 miles and traverses the counties of Bucks and Montgomery in Pennsylvania. The corridor began as a transportation and cultural link to the Germanic farming communities surrounding Philadelphia from the Delaware River to the Schuylkill River.

- Route 113
- County Boundary
- Stream
- Major Road
- Municipal Boundary
- Water
- Prime Agricultural Soil
- Heritage Conservancy Preserved
- Preserved Land
- Heritage Tourism Site
- Historic District

Farmscape in Cabin Run Historic District, Bedminster Township, Bucks County

Reflecting the historic towns, rolling hills and green lands of its past, today this important arterial roadway is under significant pressure from advancing suburbanization.

Klein Meeting House, built in 1843, located in Franconia Township, Montgomery County

Frankenfield Bridge, built in 1872, crosses Tinicum Creek in Tinicum Township, Bucks County

Heritage Conservancy
85 Old Dublin Pike
Doylestown, PA 18901
215-345-7020
www.heritageconservancy.org

January 2005