

LIFE UNDER LOGS SCAVENGER HUNT!

Do you think you could find these organisms under or around a log? Grab a pencil, head outside, and see what you find! As you find each organism, cross it off on the checklist below.

When you are finished, circle which organisms you think are decomposers!

Tips for exploring under logs:

- Lift the log facing away from your body
- Check with an adult before picking up any animals
- If you are picking up an amphibian, make sure your hands are damp before touching them
- Return any animals you pick up to the side of the log, they will find their way back under
- Leave the site you explored exactly as you found it
- Return any animals to the side of the log, then roll the log back the way you found it
