Part II, Line 5 - Monitoring and Enforcement Policy

As a nationally accredited land trust, we've adopted and are required to follow land trust standards and practices, which means we must monitor our conservation easement properties annually. We also have policies on easement violations and enforcement. Our enforcement policy includes stipulations for annual monitoring, identification of a possible violation during the monitoring visit and the steps to be taken to confirm and resolve any violation.

Part II, Line 9 - Accounting for Conservation Easements

Easements: The Conservancy receives or purchases conservation easements from various landowners and it is recorded as an expense for conservation restrictions, a component of program services, in the statement of activities in the year of its purchase. Easements are legal restrictions that permanently protect land while leaving it in private ownership. A landowner donates or sells the easement to the Conservancy, which in turn ensures that the conditions of the easement are met over time. While the owner still retains the fee interest in the land, it is the Conservancy's responsibility to monitor compliance with restrictions as set forth in the easement and to take action, including legal measures if necessary, to correct any violations.

Part V, Line 4 - Intended Uses for Endowment Funds

The endowment funds are for conservation purposes and the investment earnings are intended to be used to maintain, monitor, and for the enforcement of conservation easements.

Part X - Line 2 - FIN 48 Footnote

As required by the FASB Accounting Standards Codification, entities are required to determine whether it is more likely than not that a tax position will be sustained upon examination by the appropriate taxing authorities before any part of the benefit can be recorded in the financial statements. It also provides guidance on the recognition, measurement, and classification of income tax uncertainties, along with any related interest or penalties. This standard had no impact on the Organization's financial statements. The Organization's federal tax return is subject to audit by taxing authorities. The Organization's returns open audit periods are for the fiscal years ending December 31, 2022 - 2024.
